Market Break-in Nets Burglars $55 in Cash

Police today are investigating the break-in of Hatchitt's Market, which apparently took place sometime early this morning.

The thieves, believed to have been two, gained entry into the building by pulling a sliding door away from the door frame.

Once in the building they opened all the exits and proceeded to rifle the cash registers. They also took a box from a small file which contained change, and several containers of beer and wine.

Elmo Purnell, owner of the market, said that the amount of cash taken was approximately $55, but a value on the other items stolen was not immediately available.

The thieves took the cash drawers out of the registers, taking one of them with them. A drawer, with a few Canadian coins and pennies was found discarded behind an adjacent building.

Freezing Temps Cover Nation

Sluggish, freezing weather camped in most of the nation today, sparing only the Deep South and isolated western counties.

At San Francisco, freezing cold and a freak glaze shrank the Bay Bridge 2½ feet.

The cold front generally bisected the country, pushing west slowly through the Dakotas, Nebraska and Kansas. In Arkansas the front became stationary along a south-east slant to Panama City, Fla.

Animals Invade Downtown Area

By GEORGE LAINE
Most people are satisfied with a dog or a cat for a pet. Some go a step beyond and astound their friends and pain their neighbors with chimpanzees, pythons and the like.

Mickey Solomon and Lyn Newton are two such persons, but they disclaim any zany directions in their choices: Solomon's playmate is a 300-pound African lion "cub" and Mrs. Newton's pet is a kangaroo. Neither of the animals was too cooperative in interview situations, insisting — it seemed — that their public life belonged to the public but their personal affairs were none of the press' business.

SOLOMON AND HIS lion, named Caesar because he is the king of beasts, were in the Chi Chi's Blue Room where the animal was awaiting his $2.95 prime rib dinner. "We drove down from Cabazon, where I've got the 'Mickey's Animal Farm' located," volunteered

BLAST RELEASES DEADLY RADIATION

IDAHO FALLS, Idaho (UPI)—A non-atomic explosion ripped an experimental nuclear reactor in Southern Idaho Tuesday night, killing three technicians and releasing deadly radiation in the immediate area.

However, a spokesman for the Atomic Energy Commission said "very definitely" there was no danger from radiation to any community.

THE NATIONAL Reactor Testing Station where the accident occurred sprawls over 892 square miles, mostly sage brush and lava rock. It is 30 miles from the nearest sizeable community, Idaho Falls, with 34,000 residents.

Names of the three men killed, all military personnel, were withheld pending notification of next of kin. No one else was in the reactor building.

Cuban Press Starts Hate U.S. Drive

Cites Break Action As Proof That Invasion Planned

HAVANA, IM — The Castro-controlled Cuban press and radio launched an all-out hate campaign against the United States today, denouncing the break in relations as a "consummation of Yankee diplomatic aggression."

Ignoring the fact the break came after Cuba demanded the American Embassy cut its staff from several hundred to 11 persons, the Cubans sought to construe the Washington action as "proof" of earlier propaganda charges the U. S. had been preparing a military invasion.

NEWSPAPER EDITORIALISTS and radio commentators took the same propaganda line — that the severance of relations was "another step" in the alleged U. S. plan setting the stage for direct attack.

Perhaps significantly, Moscow Radio earlier took the same line in its radio reference to the break in its international broadcast service.

MEANWHILE, HUNDREDS of Americans, warned by the U. S. Embassy to get out of Cuba immediately unless they had "compelling reasons" to stay, packed for a hasty return to the mainland.

The political blow to the American residents of Cuba was far exceeded by the human impact on the thousands of Cubans seeking to flee Cuba and seek political asylum in the United States from the regime of Premier Fidel Castro.

The break in relations caught the embassy with an estimated 52,000 visa applications pending for final action.

White House Decision

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The White House served notice today that the United States will continue to use the Guantanamo Naval Base despite the break in diplomatic relations with Cuba.

The White House position was made public in a two-sentence statement read by Presidential Press Secretary James C. Hagerty.

"THE TERMINATION of our diplomatic and consular relations with Cuba has no effect on the status of our naval station at Guantanamo," his statement said.

"The treaty relations under which we maintain the naval station may not be abrogated without the consent of the United States."

There are 10,000 U. S. sailors, marines, civilian workers and dependents at the big base.

HAGERTY REPORTED that President Eisenhower had received continuing reports from the State Department and the U. S. Embassy in Havana on the Cuban situation since Tuesday night's White House announcement of the break in diplomatic relations.

Other developments in the Cuban situation:

—THE UNITED STATES began evacuating its embassy personnel from Havana. The State Department also urged the estimated 2,000 to 3,000 private American citizens in Cuba to leave the country and renewed its warning to Americans not to go there.

—The Senate Foreign Relations Committee scheduled a closed-door meeting Friday with Secretary of State Christian A. Herter and other State Department officials on Cuban developments. Committee sources expected Democrats to ask why the outgoing Eisenhower administration did not defer a decision on breaking relations until after the Kennedy administration takes office Jan. 20.

—CHAIRMAN RICHARD B. Russell, D-Ga., of the Senate Armed Services Committee said he did not think the break in relations would jeopardize the Guantanamo base. Russell said Guantanamo is "not vital to our defense plans but means a great deal to our prestige."

NARCOTICS RIFE IN STATE--BROWN

SACRAMENTO — Mr. Gov. Edmund G. Brown today urged the 1961 legislature to focus its efforts on "the nightmare of narcotics" at home and south of the border.

He spoke candidly of his own position in his address to the 1961 legislature: "For my part, I pledge by complete and unreserved efforts to exterminate the plague of narcotics."

THE STATE CHIEF executive told the lawmakers to pay special attention to a 22-point program submitted by his five-man special commission on narcotics after an eight-month study.

"The report provides what was previously lacking — namely, a well-documented foundation for aggressive action against the sinister dope traffic," Brown said. He was "especially impressed," the governor said, with the commission's case for "harsher penalties and longer terms of imprisonment for narcotics offenders."

BROWN URGED THE lawmakers to take a look at a commission recommendation that law enforcement officers be freed of some of the restrictions of court rules. The commission had suggested that judges be given discretion in ordering informants to disclose their identity and that officers be permitted to obtain a search warrant by stating under oath to a judge that an informant had told police a search of the suspect or his home would produce narcotics.

The governor recalled that President-elect John F. Kennedy has promised to call a White House conference on narcotics and expressed confidence that the conference would be forthcoming.

SEN. EDWIN J. REGAN, D-Weaverville, said he planned to introduce four bills to toughen narcotics laws by increasing minimum penalties for narcotics offenders, allowing use of evidence no matter how obtained, requiring registration of all narcotics offenders with law officers, and allowing protection of informers.

Assemblyman Bruce Allen, R-Los Gatos, said bills he has drafted would take about the same course.

Nixon Believed Irked by 'Bias' in Vote Campaign

MINNEAPOLIS — Mr. The Minneapolis Tribune says Vice President Richard M. Nixon believes "biased campaign reporting" cost him the presidential election.

Nixon "has made it clear in private talks with friends that he thinks a pro-Kennedy attitude by reporters covering the campaign provided Sen. John F. Kennedy with his narrow victory margin," the Tribune said Sunday.

A FRONT-PAGE dispatch by Washington correspondent Fletcher Knebel said Nixon "is leaving office with a twinge of resentment against a number of Washington correspondents."

The article said Nixon and his wife, Pat, "had gone out of their way to be on friendly terms with newspapermen and TV commentators."

"It came as somewhat of a shock during the campaign, therefore, to find that a majority of working reporters tended to favor Kennedy, a factor brought out in several polls."

"FROM THIS POINT, Nixon came to believe that he was unfairly treated in press coverage of the campaign and once blew his stack with reporters over what he branded a 'double standard' applied to himself and Kennedy."

The Tribune said Nixon's claim "reflects a view widely held in Republican strategy circles" in Washington.

Andersen Seeks Temporary Plan For Shelter Here

Robert Andersen, chief county administrative officer, has announced he will propose that the board of supervisors approve the Valley Humane Society Center, 395 East Sunny Dunes Road, as a temporary county shelter for dogs.

Andersen explained that the move would aid persons in this area whose pets may be picked up by county authorities. The only existing county shelter is not readily accessible to the upper Coachella Valley.

If the project is approved, action authorizing the move would take at least a month, Andersen said. The county officer inspected the Valley facilities last week.

With groundbreaking ceremonies today, J. E. Givens, vice president and manager of the Palm Springs office of Santa Fe Federal Savings and Loan Association, announced details of the association's new building.

Located at Palm Canyon and Baristo Road, just one block from the association's present quarters, the new structure will represent a total investment of $750,000, Givens said.

PALM SPRINGS architect E. Stewart Williams, A. I. A., designed the structure, which will feature anodized aluminum solar screens completely covering glass walls on two sides.

Palm Springs residents will remember the site as the former location of the once-famed Del Tahquitz. The main entrance will be located on Palm Canyon Drive, with lush green planting on three sides, a drive-in window for car service, parking for 34 cars.

TOTAL SQUARE-FOOTAGE of the building is 14,000 square feet — tangible evidence of confidence of Santa Fe Federal management in growth and future of the Palm Springs area, Givens pointed out.

The main floor of the association will feature a completely open plan of desk arrangement, with all officers completely accessible to the public. Private booths for escrow transactions and for those using safe deposit boxes are provided, as well as a children's window for youngsters making deposits, and seven teller stations for prompt service.

OF PARTICULAR interest to residents will be the association's Community Room, downstairs, accommodating 100; which will be offered free of charge to groups wishing to use it for meetings day or night, throughout the year. Facilities for serving light refreshments and coffee will be available to those wishing to use the room, Givens stated.

Also planned for the basement are an employee recreation room, air conditioning equipment with 50 ton capacity, and room for storage of records and expansion. Completion is slated for the end of September, with an opening celebration in October.

Although they make up less than 14 per cent of the driving population, drivers under 25 years old were involved in nearly 29 per cent of the fatal accidents last year.

A Symposium on Red China-2

NEW YORK CITY — "To expect that zoology in Communist China would approximately equal that of the West in the next decade or so is overly optimistic. But to find comfort, or even contempt, on the basis of the present status is equally unrealistic. As far as the scientific workers in Communist China are concerned, we can only show sympathy and respect, regardless of how the fruits of their effort are exploited."

In one of the best and most fact-packed speeches of this Symposium, Dr. Tien-Hsi Chen, Pennsylvania State University, gives this nutshell summary. It is worth close attention. Dr. Chen is speaking both for zoology and for science in general in Red China. Dr. Chen is also speaking about the Chinese Revolution as an anti-Communist and as a scientist.

IN USING DECADES to measure the lead which the West still holds over Red China in science, Dr. Chen is going along with most of his colleagues. In another speech Dr. Marshall Stone, professor of mathematics at the University of Chicago, said that Communist China was about twenty years from "maturity" in mathematics.

But nobody who has heard or read any number of these lectures will derive "comfort or even contempt" from the evidence. It is like the island castaway, who, hoping to discover human companionship, finds in the sand one morning the unbelievably huge and terrifying footprint of a monster.

BUT BEFORE going to examples of Chinese science on the march, there is something else to note from Dr. Chen's closing statement. In expressing "sympathy and respect" for fellow-scientists in Red China, he is doing what comes naturally to Americans, both native and adopted.

In every war we have performed a rationalization which allows us to hate the enemy "government" while bearing no ill will toward the enemy people. We fought to dethrone the Kaiser, exterminate the Nazis, chase out the Fascists, reform Japanese "militarists" — all the time bearing love and forgiveness upon Germans, Italians and Japanese.

BUT IT IS questionable whether we can or should take this high-minded attitude in our present war with Communism. Dr. Chen himself provides food for thought in discussing how scientists work under the Red dictatorship.

"The basic policy as decreed by Mao Tse-tung and his associates is that all scientific researches must point toward practical applications . . . Mao has reiterated the principles of 'unity of theory and practice' and 'nationalization of academic work.' The philosophy of 'science for science's sake' is denounced as reactionary . . . The afore-said policy has been strictly adhered to by Chinese scientists with few exceptions."

WELL, HERE WE have typical, but often unremarked, proof that Communism cannot be treated as just another enemy. It is not just a tyrannical government which has fastened its talons on some nice people. It is a massive way of thinking which is so different from ours that the language is hardly translatable.

THE COMMUNISTS have caught us in a most ingenious paradox, but unless we are to yield to their will, we must oppose it. The paradox is the more baffling and painful because the Chinese people are inherently attractive, and their ways are captivating to the American fancy.

To meet their food and population problem, the Chinese have increased insecticide production many times over. They have speeded up the reproduction rate of farm animals and fish. Yet they are capable of turning from these laboratory miracles to "human wave" tactics against pests. In April 1958, the entire populace of Peking was mobilized against the fast-breeding, big-eating flocks of sparrows which were consuming the grain fields. This is Dr. Chen's description:

"MASSES OF people carrying drums, gongs, and bamboo sticks gathered on the rooftops, under trees and at places where the sparrows made their nests . . . The poor birds were chased from one place to another, flying and running for their lives . . . In three days over half a million sparrows were destroyed. Similar 'human sea' tactics have been employed to exterminate the other three evils, namely: rats, flies and mosquitoes."

It's mighty hard to dislike people who go after their problems like early Americans. And yet to wish this Red Revolution well — is to wish ourselves exterminated like those sparrows. —Holmes Alexander

THE eternally jarring contrasts: A great old Leningrad cathedral converted into a museum dedicated to the proposition that there is no God and those who practice in His name are knaves. And then the next night, at the National Hotel in Moscow, the most gentle and gracious hospitality — and from waiters, yet.

MAY — KENNEDY in a West Virginia coal field, spotless but cutting through the grime of blackened men around him, and reaching them. Venetian Way (Who?) winning a Kentucky Derby that achieved the reverse miracle of being boring. The awful, terrible empty feeling of Paris, the day Khrushchev walked out on the Summit, and the scolding, humiliating, crazy press conference he threw in its wake.

JUNE — WAY WITH Ike again: Anchorage (where a child mistook Walter Winchell for the president), the tense gas stop at Tokyo, just after Jim Hagerty had been mobbed; Manila, Taipei and the charming Chiangs, Seoul's incredibly colorful and beautiful people, and the shouting and abusive Okinawans. ("If that's a sample of your outpost of empire," the London Express's Rene Maccoll said to me, "I'll take Poona.") and then a side trip into Tokyo to discover, astonishingly that the Zengakuren didn't hate us at all.

JULY — THE suppressed bitterness of the Democratic convention, always held in strict rein until the day before the showdown when (it seems a thousand years ago) Lyndon Johnson threw his haymaker at his young opponent (that the elder Kennedy was pro-Hitler) and missed the next day they were arm in arm.

And the more solemn, as ever, GOP convention, Nixon's rise, and his sobering appraisal of the situation the next day at a little party he gave for reporters who had gone to Russia with him: "It will be all uphill. There are just more Democrats than Republicans."

AUGUST — THE Hall of Columns, Moscow. Francis Powers rises and reads, like a schoolboy, his confession and act of contrition. "If I had a gun I'd shoot that —," the correspondent on my right muttered. "Poor guy, 108 days in solitary before he could learn to do this," the one on my left whispered. And the explosive burst of applause from the spectators when the 10-year verdict came in.

SEPTEMBER — THE Eternal City was never lovelier, or daffier. Nobody quite knew how to get the people in and out of the Olympic Games. The Italian Police guarding the girl athletes in Olympic Village from Roman wolves tried to make the girl athletes.

We lost what we were sure we'd win, won where we didn't have a chance, had the usual scandals, cleared them up. Then home, and Khrushchev comes to New York like a conquering Caesar who had been given a place. Did he ever drop that other shoe?

OCTOBER — THE strangest World Series of all I've covered since 1933. It was the first series won by a groundskeeper, a groundskeeper who failed to remove the pebble that turned a series-winning double-play ball into another Adam's apple for Tony Kubek. It was the first series where a manager was fired for a pebble, too.

NOVEMBER — THE "You've got to believe me" plea in the voice of the candidates; in the homestretch. The endless returns, a Kennedy tidal wave that flattened out too all but level water. Pat's stricken face as her husband smilingly conceded. The sudden, waning stumble in Jack's Harvardese, as he accepted, and the homely reference to home and baby.

DECEMBER — A TRIP to Langley Air Force Base, Va., to visit the Astronauts. The ten thousand and one safety precautions, the duplication of every safety device except one: The "brake" rocket which will slow down the Astronaut's capsule enough for it to be pulled back to earth by gravity.

"What do you do if that doesn't work?" we asked, there was a pause and then one of them said, with the faintest kind of smile, "You keep going, and after awhile you call a priest."

Resolutions,
Fun when we make 'em,
To last four days
And then to break 'em.

For years, I desisted from making noble resolves on the first day of the New Year. Made me feel so bad when I broke 'em.

BUT LAST SUNDAY, feeling charitable and kindly toward the world, I made myself a list of "don'ts" and "do's" for the bright new tomorrow. Made me feel good. Then on Monday the doorbell rang.

It was a young man. When he was through with his pitch, I said, "I don't give a hoot if you do want to go to college. I don't like that magazine."

And there went No. 3: "Always be patient in answering the doorbell."

A FEW MINUTES later the telephone rang. Making up my mind to always be courteous over Mr. Bell's invention, I politely said: "Yes?"

Then, bang, bang! "No, I am not interested in a physical culture class and I don't care if I have won a prize. Drop dead!"

So there went No. 2 and maybe the phone will go, too.

SO ON TUESDAY, I am sitting quietly on the right side of the front seat as Mrs. G drives me into Palm Springs.

At Amado Road, a woman slammed on her brakes for the stop sign at Indian Avenue. Her reactions were so slow that by the time her car stopped, it was astraddle of the right lane.

And there went No. 1 which stipulated that I would never again stick my head out of the car window and make derogatory remarks about driving habits.

We didn't even stay inside and hope the other person was a lip reader.

HAVEN'T BEEN to Santa Anita yet in 1961 (the track opened in 1960) so Resolution No. 5 is still intact.

But the first time I do go, I'll probably forget about abstaining from eight horse show parleys when, after having pocketed about $60 bucks after the first five races, I lose it all on the sixth.

Resolution No. 5 is never to upbraid myself for misfortune. Because there is no such thing as bad luck. It's just bad figuring.

NOS. 6 TO 10 have already gone to pot because I broke No. 6 a few minutes after I made the list.

No 6 had to do with memory. It provided that I would never set out without a pencil and a scrap of paper of sorts. Write down every thought that came.

But — I forgot the pencil and paper that afternoon and cannot recall the last four good resolutions.

It's just as well. Now I won't feel bad breaking them.

Says S. S. Bible: "A human being is a creature that cannot put his toes in his mouth after babyhood but can put his foot in it anytime."

STAN DELAPLANE:

Life of the Rich

St. Moritz in Switzerland is the essence of elegance in skiing circles.

It is the winter home of the continental rich. Ex-kings and out-of-work Latin-American dictators pad softly through its snowy streets.

The hotels are pictures of luxury. And caviar is a throwaway line on the restaurant menus.

THE TRAIN FROM St. Anton in Austria runs in a circular fashion to reach St. Moritz. And there are two changes where you must fling your bags out the window.

"But if you wish, sir," said the hotel porter, "you can take a taxi."

"How far is it?"

"ABOUT 180 kilometers, sir. Say, 120 American miles."

"And how much does he charge?" I asked carelessly. (If you are going to live with the rich, you have to live it up, I always say)

THE PORTER said it was 600 Austrian schillings. I figured that out in my head. Then I went in the men's lounge and figured it out on paper. Only $24!

"Order me the taxi," I said grandly.

And so we rode into St. Moritz, our Mercedes' snow tires kicking snow over the walking royalty.

ST MORITZ turned out to be filled not only with facecard Dukes. It was loaded with rich Swiss who came down from Zurich to avoid the foehn.

"The foehn," said Mr. Fred Birmann from the Swiss National Tourist Office. "is a dry wind. It sweeps the north-south valleys like Zurich and Munich. It comes from the Mediterranean and makes people do crazy things."

"WHEN THE FOEHN blows, there are more traffic accidents. The crime rate increases. Many people cannot behave normally. My secretary did not come to work yesterday in Zurich."

"She phoned and said: 'I have a head like a melon from the foehn.'"

MR. BIRMANN said the Swiss have even put out an anti-foehn pill to take on such Zurich days.

"But the foehn has a stimulating effect on writers and poets. Some of the best poetry is written on foehn days."

"The foehn is also good for the tourists — though not for Tourist Office personnel," he said. "The tourists do not seem to be affected by the foehn. The dry wind clears the air."

"All picture postcards of Zurich are taken on foehn days," said Mr. Birmann. "Although they probably retouch them, too. But foehn makes the best pictures"

HE SAID IT took about 9 years of residence before the foehn took hold and shook you.

"At that time, the foehn becomes a mania. Everybody talks about it. They say, 'I cannot do anything today because of the foehn.'"

THE FOEHN apparently does not fall on St. Moritz. The rich and royal strolled through the streets in sabled splendor. From my room in the Hotel Rosatchi, I could see the quiet parade of Rolls-Royces. Daimlers and sports Mercedes-Benz dustom-buils.

The lights shone brightly in the splendid hotels. And the splendid people (who hire taxis for 120-mile rides) sat splendidly before excellent meals.

The foehn, sweeping up from the Mediterranean, made a polite detour and went on to blow the tops off Zurich.

Dear Abby...

...by Abigail VanBuren

DEAR ABBY: I've been married to a good-looking truck driver for ten years. I am not the suspicious type, but listen to this: The other night he came off the road with two long scratches on his left hip. They were fairly deep scratches, yet neither his shorts nor trousers were ripped.

When I asked him how it happened, he said it was probably from a feather in the bed. Now, Abby, I love my husband and I am not looking for any trouble, but do they still have feather beds in modern motels? And could anyone get scratched like this from a feather?

NOT STUPID

DEAR NOT: It's unlikely that the scratches came from a feather. It was probably the whole chick. Keep your eyes open.

DEAR ABBY: What do you tell your friends and relatives when they ask you what your husband gave you for your 10th wedding anniversary? He's not the thoughtful type, but he's a swell guy.

OVERLOOKED

DEAR OVERLOOKED: Tell them he gave you ten wonderful years.

DEAR ABBY: I am the most heart-broken girl in the world. My mother gave away Snowball, my kitty, because she scratched my hand when I was putting a doll's diaper on her. It was an accident, I'm sure. Please, Abby, tell my mother I'll do anything to get Snowball back. When I was in school yesterday she gave him to the egg man to take to his farm.

WET PILLOW (I am 10)

DEAR WET PILLOW: I am appealing to your mother to please get Snowball back. But honey, Snowball scratched you on purr-puss. Never try to put a diaper over a fur coat.

DEAR ABBY: I would like to be an airline hostess. I have heard that one has to be a nurse first. I have also heard that one must be a certain height and weight and must remain unmarried. Is this true?

WANTS TO FLY

DEAR WANTS: Phone the local office of the airline for which you wish to fly. There you will learn where to write for the information you seek.

"Who pays for what?" Send 50 cents to ABBY, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif., for Abby's pamphlet, "How To Have A Lovely Wedding."

For a personal reply, write to ABBY, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif., and include a self-addressed, stamped envelope. Abby answers ALL mail.

Funeral Held For Former Booking Great

New Palm Springs
Resident R. M. Hall
Died Here Monday

Funeral services were held this afternoon in San Diego for Robert M'Greer Hall, 88, onetime actor and booking agent for W. C. Fields and "Sawney the Strong Man." Hall died Monday at his Palm Springs home, at 12 Warm Sands Place, following an illness of almost two years.

HE WAS MOST RECENTLY employed as director of Public Safety for the State of New Mexico, and came to Palm Springs to make his home only two weeks ago. He was a frequent visitor and parttime resident here since 1954.

During his association with the late W. C. Fields, known to the world as a great humorist, and with Sawney, probably one of the world's all-time great strong men, he toured the Orient with both at the turn of the century.

HE IS SURVIVED by a nephew, Gwynne S. Curtis, Jr., of Rolling Hills, and a step-daughter, Mrs. Hattie L. Browning of Dallas, Tex. Services were held at 4 p.m. today at Cypress View Crematorium chapel, with Rev. L. A. Marquardt of San Diego officiating. Wifels and Son Mortuary was in charge of local arrangements.

'Student Prince' Slated Jan. 30 At San Berdo

SAN BERNARDINO — Plans are well under way for the San Bernardino Civic Light Opera Association's mid-winter production of "Student Prince" set for Jan. 30 through Feb. 4, according to Alexandra Grow Jenks, president. Civic Light Opera's season opened in November with "Redhead" and will close in April with "West Side Story."

"IN CONTRAST TO the two jamecomers in the musical show world being given this season, the Association has selected Romberg's incomparable 'Student Prince' in response to demands for some of the older, all-time favorites," said Mrs. Jenks. In keeping with the current show trend, however, new staging and other facets of modernization have been arranged for the production although the original plot and music will not be altered.

"Student Prince" has been hailed by critics as the predecessor of the modern musical play, which was innovated through such hits as "Oklahoma" and "Carousel." With a setting in Heidelberg during the 1860's, it deals with the conflict arising between love of freedom and sense of duty in the life of young German Prince Karl Franz.

TICKETS FOR "STUDENT Prince" will be available at the Box Office, located in Gene Vanouse Television and Music Store, 338 Highland Avenue, San Bernardino on January 9, 1960; however, seats can be purchased at any time through the Civic Light Opera mail order service, P. O. Box 606, San Bernardino, California.

Ham Stars

NEW YORK (UPI) — Ham stars on the holiday menu, and a simple unsulphured molasses glaze gives it an appetizing shine. Just mix equal parts of unsulphured molasses and prepared mustard. About 4 tablespoons of this combination glazes a 6-pound ham. Spoon or brush the glaze on a clove-studded ham during the last 45 minutes of the ham's baking time.

For an extra shiny glaze, repeat the brush-on process two or three times during the last 15 minutes of baking time. Then see how the gleaming ham adds sparkle to the festive dinner.

SEXY, VIOLENT COMIC BOOKS GOOD—MEDIC

CHICAGO (UPI) — Violent movies and lurid comic books can be useful in keeping society from blowing its top, Dr. I. A. Burch, clinical psychologist for the University of Illinois, said Monday. "These stories may represent fantasy expressions for these urges and make it unnecessary to express them in action," Burch said.

'JOE-JOE' THE KANGAROO tells his story to Desert Sun reporter George Laine, right, while his owner, Lynn Newton, left, and Faye Renee manager Charlotte Dirlam tend the youngster. When he's full grown, the kangaroo—one of Australia's prized "great greys"—will stand six to seven feet tall and develop a hind-leg wallop even a donkey would envy. (Desert Sun Photo)

ANIMALS

"He's very playful," explained Solomon.

IN FACT, THE trainer explained, Caesar is so playful that he has knocked Solomon down about 30 or 40 times in their romps around the lion's cage at Cabazon.

The waitress arrived with the prime rib and Caesar, declining the napkin and all other essential gear normal for Blue Room diners placed one huge paw on the rib and swept the blood rare morsel into his mouth.

Somehow or other, your reporter got the impression that Caesar rather wished it could have been me instead of prime rib.

NOT NEARLY SO awesome was Joe-Joe, owned by Lynn Newton of Balboa Island and interviewed during a visit by Mrs. Newton to Faye Renee Shop, owned by her father, A. T. Liljequist.

When Joe-Joe grows up—he's a little, rabbit looking fellow now—he'll stand six to seven feet tall, be able to leap 20 to 30 feet from a standing position, and counter-acting "cute" appearance, be capable of breaking your back or your neck with those powerful hind feet.

Joe-Joe may prove to be different than his ancestors, Mrs. Newton hopes. The "great greys," as the Australians call them, are pretty potent animals who dislike being disturbed. But Joe-Joe has the benefits of motherly care from Mrs. Newton, solicitous guidance from his "godfather," Art Linkletter, and all of the benefits of not having to forage for food. (Caesar doesn't have to forage for food, either. He'd just rather do it that way.)

"ALL JOE-JOE wants to eat is grass," said Mrs. Newton. "He likes flowers, too."

She said the last so wistfully that I pursued the subject.

"What kind of flowers does he like?"

"Darn him, anyway," said Mrs. Newton. "He eats our African violets, our philodendrons, and our pansies as though we were growing them for him."

"And the camellias are his favorite. Prize camellias, too."

JOE-JOE SNIFFED at the note pad, rejected it. He spotted a floral print dress on one of the racks and headed for it with a springlike action in his oversized rear legs.

Faye Renee manager Charlotte Dirlam headed him off and Mrs. Newton began to show us how Joe-Joe sucks his thumb.

Anyone for animal crackers?

CONGRESS GEARS FOR ACTION PLAN

WASHINGTON — The 87th Congress convening today is geared to throw its first full effort behind President-elect John F. Kennedy's anti-recession program with prospects of substantial success.

But Asst. House GOP Leader Leslie C. Arends, Ill., predicted the new Democratic President would not get his five-point priority program passed "just the way he wants it."

AREND'S SAID THERE was a big "question mark" in the outlook for enactment of a medical aid program for the aged tied to the Social Security system.

This bill must originate in the House, and some legislators feel the House Ways and Means Committee might hold hearings this session, putting off a showdown until the 1962 congressional election year.

But House and Senate Democratic leaders insisted that Kennedy's program would pass in some "satisfactory" manner.

HERE IS WHAT KENNEDY wants first from Congress:

— A medical care plan for the aged within the Social Security program.

Police Tracing Theft Attempt

Art Bailey, Jr., resident of Smoke Tree Ranch, reported to police last night the attempted theft of a Speed Graphic camera.

Bailey said that two young men, who had entered his home during a party, had been seen leaving with the camera, and that an attempt to stop them at the gate had failed. Police, however, found the camera beside the road to Highway 111, where it had probably been thrown from the car.

San Jacinto Park Plan Set by State

Special to The Desert Sun
SACRAMENTO — A total of $1,750,000 for Mt. San Jacinto State Park and $2,500,000 for Salton Sea State Park are included in the 1961 project budget presented yesterday by the California State Park Commission.

The two projects are among four Riverside County programs scheduled for action in the year ahead. Lake Elsinore State Park and the Temecula Hills Project are also included and, additionally, some out-of-county projects affecting the Desert area — like the Joshua Tree State Park and the Anza-Borrego Desert State Park — are also scheduled for work.

THE AREA PROJECTS are included in a broad list of expansions within the California State Park system calculated to provide immediate acquisition of some lands "before costs are beyond reason and fiscal responsibility." Establishment of some 15,000 Campsites during the next five years stands near the head of the list.

The park expansion proposals were presented to Governor Edmund G. Brown. The Governor requested the report "to establish guide lines for providing our citizens as quickly as possible opportunities to vacation in our State parks, which at the present time are lacking."

The report was compiled under the direction of Charles A. DeTurk, chief of the Division of Beaches and Parks. DeTurk assumed guidance of the California State Park System 18 months ago.

THE CALIFORNIA PARK Commission anticipates presenting a continuing program each year. After the initial five year proposals submitted at this time are completed, expenditures will be considerably reduced but would continue at such a rate as to meet the continuing need of a growing State.

If adopted, the program calls for a total of about $150,000,000 at "1960 land and construction prices," but will provide:

1. Vastly improved and expanded camping facilities on southern California beaches.
2. Adequate opportunity for California families to vacation in a State Park rather than being turned away in almost every area on any given summer day because the park is full.

3. APPROXIMATELY FOUR times the present available picnic facilities at popular weekend and day-use areas, such as the San Mateo beaches and southern California beaches not suited for camping.
4. En route camping parks, a pilot proposal with a series of four on the Route of the 49ers (State Route 49 through the Mother Lode) and the Route of the Padres (U. S. 101 from San Diego to Sonoma).

The report covers six geographical areas, plus historical restoration, and the proposal for en route camps. The six areas are:

1. Central Valley and Valley Rivers
2. Northern Redwoods
3. Southern California Beaches
4. Sierra Nevada, Cascades, Sierrita
5. Southwest Desert and Mountains
6. Bay Area and Central Coast

Cool Cats

DALLAS, Tex. (UPI) — Burglars could have a swinging session if they put their loot from a North Dallas High School burglar into use. They took a tape recorder, bassoon, three saxophones and four clarinets.

THE PROGRAM WAS submitted to the Governor by DeTurk, Will Rogers, Jr., Chairman of the Park Commission, and DeWitt Nelson, Director of the Department of Natural Resources.

The report states that if funded, the proposals can be completed within five years with the full cooperation of other governmental agencies, especially the Department of Public Works and its Division of Architecture.

"This means," DeTurk said, "that if we have legislative indications that the program will be funded, we can establish our work program so that within three years at the outside, and two years in most instances, a project will be finished — including acquisition and construction of facilities."

Close cooperation with the Federal Government in the disposal of public land is necessary, the report states. It specifies certain areas where lands suitable for park purposes are available and should be made available so as to save California (and other states in similar circumstances) huge financial outlays.

THE REPORT POINTS out that California has expended vast sums for redwood acquisition and for beach acquisition, both of which are of national importance. It asks Federal action in the acquisition of beach lands in cooperation of further development of redwood areas.

The report states that expansion of state services such as prisons, youth reformatories, mental hospitals, highways, and social welfare, have far outdistanced the providing of recreational facilities through the State Park System for the "wage-earning, wage-producing members of the community who contribute so significantly to the establishment of our economy."

It stresses that state park facilities are overloaded during vacation periods and warm, sunny weekends sometimes to the extent that park gates are closed to even the casual sightseers who are not interested in camping or picnicking.

Lily Pons Home Here Burglarized

Police today are continuing their investigation into a break-in of the Lily Pons home at 13 Cahulla Hills Drive, which was left ransacked Monday night.

Investigating officers Det. Matt Calac and Jim Wall said that the home had been entered by breaking the window in the front door.

Drawers and their contents were thrown about the rooms of the home, a broken dish was found on the floor, and a locked china closet had been opened by tearing the door off.

POOL OWNERS

NEW SCIENTIFIC DISCOVERY
BREAKS THE CHEMICAL BARRIER!

NOW enjoy your pool
WITHOUT the irritation of CHEMICALS!

The Aquatrol® system works on a unique principle—well known to medical science. It purifies your pool by adding copper and silver ions as the water flows through your pool's circulation system. Your own doctor will tell you that the method is tested, proven, safe!

The silver ions destroy bacteria, and the copper ions eliminate algae. You get crystal-clear pool water—as fresh as a mountain spring! It's completely clear and colorless—a result of eliminating the chemicals which make pool water murky and the algae which discolor it.

Aquatrol pure water has other qualities you'll like. It tastes good—like pool water should! It's never salty. No odor. It doesn't irritate your eyes, skin, or sinuses. It doesn't bleach hair, clothes, sunbats, carpets, or furniture. Splashes don't kill grass or plants, and the water doesn't corrode pipes or filters.

Aquatrol doesn't cost—it pays! The savings you make on chemicals alone pay for the unit. It keeps on saving money every year. It only cost pennies a day for power to operate the system. Installation costs are low. Aquatrol can be purchased on budget terms with bank financing.

Fullmer and Robinson Set for Fourth Battle

NEW YORK — UPI — Gene Fullmer and Sugar Ray Robinson may be matched today for their fourth middleweight title fight at the Las Vegas Nev. Convention Hall, Feb. 25.

Ex - champion Robinson disclosed this morning that the promoters have "tentatively" accepted his television terms, thereby removing apparently the last obstacle.

Champion Fullmer, NBA version of West Jordan, Utah, and the promoters agreed on terms several days ago.

Sugar Ray is scheduled for a New York conference today with Norman Rothschild of Syracuse, N. Y., who will co-promote the 15-round with Jack Doyle and Mel Greb of Las Vegas.

Also slated for the conference is Harry Markson, managing director of boxing for Madison Square Garden, the Saturday-night fight-TV producer.

Robinson explained today, "I insisted upon getting one - third of the television money - or there would be no fight. And the promoters tentatively agreed to that last night."

The total television money reportedly is $150,000.

PALM SPRINGS TO PLAY PART IN PROGRAM

Southland to be All Year Sports Capital of World

By HAL WOOD
United Press International

The Big Push to boom the Southern California area as the year 'round sports capital of the world will be in full swing this year.

And Palm Springs and the desert area will play a big hand in the proceedings.

It is possible that New York City, in the plush years of Madison Square Garden and three major league baseball clubs, had more activity for six months of the year. But for all-year action, it's doubtful there ever has been anything like this out.

IT ALL STARTED OUT with the Rose Bowl and its 100,000 fans Monday at nearby Pasadena.

It zooms along with the $50,000 Los Angeles Open Golf Tournament this weekend, featuring nearly all the top club swingers in the world.

And during the rest of the year it will go like this:

—The Dodgers of the National League and the Angels of the American League each play 77-game home schedules here.

The Angeles will be in Palm Springs for at least 12 exhibition games.

—It is probable, off past experience, that anywhere from six to a dozen world championship fights will be staged.

THE MAJOR LEAGUE basketball clubs will be operating here by next fall.

—The major league professional football teams each play full schedules in the Los Angeles Coliseum.

—The Coliseum and Compton R. lays each spring.

—The huge new sports arena that handles such things as indoor track meets, tennis and basketball tournaments, the fights, etc.

Indian Cagers Edge Hemet 37-35

Edwards, Taylor Total 22

With Mark Edwards punching through 12 points and Tyrone Taylor nabbing 10, coach Jim Workman's Indians Tuesday night defeated Hemet's Bulldogs at Hemet 37 to 35 in final non-league practice game before the start of the Desert Valley League season Friday.

It was a cliff-hanger all of the way with Hemet taking an early lead and overhauled by the Tribe in the second period. The half ended in an 18-18 deadlock.

THE THIRD PERIOD was another close one with the Indians taking a one-point lead at the start of the final quarter 25-24.

In the last quarter, another nip and tuck dual marked the close play with the Tribe gaining another point to hang on for the two-point win, 37 to 35.

Hemet's Bs defeated the Pa-poos quintet 42 to 26 in the preliminary game.

BOTH TEAMS were wild at the basket, scoring less than one fourth of their attempts. The Indians, however, were well ahead on rebounds.

Carlos Reyes was third for the Indians with seven points and Mike Hart, who went in as a sub, scored six.

Ron Studebaker rounded out the evening with two.

FRIDAY NIGHT coach Workman takes his squad to Indio for the first league game. The Tribe's pre-season record is now 4-4.

Indio lost Tuesday night to El Centro in a practice game, 23 to 61.

In other games involving DVL teams Tuesday night, Yucaipa downed Perris 56-38 and Banning lost to Beaumont, 52-58.

Tuesday night's score:

Entry Blanks in Mail for Annual P. S. Road Race

Entry blanks went into the mail today for the 18th running of the Palm Springs Road Races, first event in a nine-race program for 1961 and one of the biggest sports car events on the Pacific coast.

An entry list of more than 200 including some of the top name pilots in the racing field is expected.

Dates for the two-day race program are Saturday and Sunday, Jan. 21 and 22. Hal Daunis, of the Sports Car Club of America which sponsors the event, said:

The race will be held as usual at the Palm Springs Airport, a fast 2.9 mile tricky course with sharp turns to test the skill of the drivers.

Points leading to the racing chauffeur championship of 1961 will be awarded drivers.

A sports car show and the annual SCAA banquet will be staged in conjunction with the two-day race meet.

Hemon Named To Set Up, Head L. A. Farm Plan

LOS ANGELES UPI — Roland Hemon, 34, was named Tuesday to set up and head the new Los Angeles Angels baseball club's farm system.

Farm director of the Milwaukee Braves since 1951, Hemon's appointment was announced by Angeles General Manager Fred Haney, former Braves manager.

Haney said that during Hemon's tenure at Milwaukee the club developed such stars as Hank Aaron, Ed Mathews, Del Crandall and Wes Covington.

Hemon also will be in charge of the scouting system for the American League Angels.

Haney also announced the appointment of Billy Jordan as ticket manager. Jordan held that position with the former Los Angeles Angels of the Pacific Coast League.

A's Fans Jubilant as Lane Takes Charge

KANSAS CITY, Mo. — UPI — Kansas City baseball fans are jubilant over obtaining tradin' Frank Lane, the often-times outspoken but well-regarded general manager.

Lane was hired Tuesday by Kansas City Athletics owner Charles Finley. He previously guided the St. Louis Cardinals, Cardinals, Chicago White Sox, and Cleveland Indians to first-division finishes and A's fans are hopeful he will do the same for them.

"At least we'll see some trading now -- and maybe some of the deals will go our way," one man remarked.

LANE REPLACES Parke Carroll, who has been sharply criticized for trades involving the New York Yankees. Two of the deals which aroused the wrath of Kansas City fans sent slugger Bob Cerv to the Yankees for injury-plagued third baseman Andy Carey, and the American League's Most Valuable Player, Roger Maris, to New York in a multiple player deal.

Carroll, praised both deals as being beneficial to the A's, yet

Kansas City finished in the American League cellar and the Yankees won the pennant.

Lane, 65, was given a four-year contract. He said he considers every player on the A's roster material for "judicious" trades. "The good players we'll keep in Kansas City, and they will not find their way to Yankee Stadium or any other stadium if they are any good," he said.

LANE'S SALARY with the Athletics calls for a reported $100,000 per year. He drew $50,000 a year salary and a bonus of five cents per person after home attendance passed the 800,000 mark at Cleveland.

In coming to Kansas City, Lane again joins forces with Manager Joe Gordon, who was his skipper at Cleveland until the managerial swap last season with the Detroit Tigers. Lane said there were no hard feelings between himself and Gordon over the managerial trade, adding that he had told Gordon Detroit wanted him "and it was a voluntary decision on his (Gordon's) part."

SM Women Out to Beat the Pro Today

Thirty members of the Shadow Mountain Golf Club Women's Auxiliary were swinging clubs today in their annual "Beat the Pro" tournament.

They will try to post a better card than Bob Pinnell, club pro, in the 18 hole contest.

Pinnell will play along in different foursomes during the day and his gross score will be the target for the women, who will use their full handicaps.

Pinnell shoots in the neighborhood of 68-70 for the course.

Second Hole-in-One

Ed Faytinger, member of Ranch Country Club, scored the second hole-in-one on the course, it was reported today.

He slammed one from the No. 5 fifth tee, straight into the cup, using a No. 3 iron. No. 5 hole is 175 yards, par 3.

In the meantime, it was announced that first annual Women's Club Championship tournament at

Warmath Tries to Forget Loss Here

Minnesota football coach Murray Warmath, much disappointed by his team's loss to the Washington Huskies in the Rose Bowl Monday, 7-17, tried to forget it Tuesday as he and his family relaxed in the sunshine in Palm Springs. He had no alibis for the defeat other than they couldn't get going in the first half.

Meanwhile, the Huskies broke camp at Long Beach and prepared to leave for home and a rousing welcome.

The team parade by motorcade through Long Beach to the airport marked the second year that Washington's stay here ended in a Rose Bowl victory and coach Jim Owens called the city "our lucky spot."

OWENS AND FIVE of his players, however, were not in the group, having left early Tuesday for Honolulu and the Hula Bowl this weekend.

The Huskies were on their own Tuesday.

THE RIGORS of training routine were forgotten and the victory celebration of the Huskies lasted well past midnight Monday with the squad giving coach Owens, quarterback Bob Schloredt and the other departing players a rousing sendoff to Hawaii.

Some 25 miles away at Pasadena, the Minnesota Gophers also relaxed and their departure was delayed until 8:30 a.m. Thursday from Burbank Airport.

Although there was no official reply to the claims of Washington that it was now the No. 1 team in the nation, one spokesman who did not want to be identified said, "they can claim what they want — We still have the trophies as the top team."

BUSINESS GROWTH SHOWS HUGE HIKE

The Palm Springs business population showed a 38 per cent increase in the five years 1956 through 1960, compared to an average of 28 per cent for Riverside County, Dean D. Maddux, regional vice president of Dun and Bradstreet, Los Angeles, announced today.

The figure compared to a 29 per cent increase in sales tax permits for a comparable five year period, as reported by the city finance department.

THE DUN AND BRADSTREET reference book lists only manufacturers, wholesalers or retailers who seek or grant commercial credit, does not include some of the service and professional businesses. The figures are, therefore, not a strict reflection of the total business activity of the area. Other Coachella Valley area increases include 135 per cent in Palm Desert, a 160 per cent in Rancho Mirage, a 57 per cent in Desert Hot Springs, 75 per cent in Thousand Palms, and 18 per cent in Cathedral City.

PALM SPRINGS businesses reported increases from 339 in January 1956, to 467 at the end of 1960. In Palm Desert, growth was from 26 to 61, Rancho Mirage 10 to 26, Desert Hot Springs 35 to 55, Thousand Palms four to seven, and Cathedral City 85 to 100.

Indio registered a 32 per cent gain, from 232 to 307. The 28 per cent growth in Riverside County was in numerical growth from 3,459 to 4,432.

Village Records Just 3 Permits

Only three building permits were issued in Palm Springs last week, the city building department reported.

Having a total valuation of $26,330, the permits went to the Ranch Club, 3000 Verona Road, golf cart shed and remodel clubhouse, $8,000; Mr. and Mrs. Campbell, 2233 Cardillo Avenue, dwelling, $18,000, and Alejo Palms, 520 Monterey, addition, $350.

Night Number

PORT ARTHUR, Tex. (UPI)—City Commissioner C. R. Eisler has what he believes an effective method to handle telephone calls from querulous constituents who phone at a late hour.

"Just call them back the next night about the same time, or a little later to give them their answer."

Farmer's Tractor Found--But Not Thief

INDIO — The sheriff's department here found Gabriel Giannini's missing rubber-tired tractor, but the search continues for the unknown person who rode it off from the ranch at Avenue 52 and Madison Street here.

The tractor was found in Coachella on New Year's Day.

"Tracks indicate someone took the tractor to pull a stuck car or pickup truck out of the sand," a sheriff's department spokesman told The Desert Sun. Apparently the stuck vehicle wouldn't run after being towed, "so apparently the tractor was used to get on down to Coachella," investigating officers explained.

The do-it-yourself project with Giannini's tractor is grand theft tractor, the sheriff's office reports.

INTERNATIONALLY KNOWN and read, Hearst columnist Louella Parsons was honored at a Sunday night dinner party given by Ray Ryan. The group gathered for cocktails in the Kiva Room, before joining the Twilight Buffet Dance crowd in the Silver Palms. Around Town

... with Hildy Crawford

Using up the last few days of the old year... and welcoming in a new one... made for a busy social schedule around town... There were pre-New Years parties... and New Years Eve parties... and Hangover House the following day... There was a party at Howard Manor Friday afternoon that startled other luncheon guests... because of its New Years decor... with a great cluster of balloons overhead... trailing serpentine onto the table... and horns stuck on top the napkins that had been cocked like hats... The party was a hail and farewell for Joyce (Mrs. Robert) Markson... who was here to spend the holidays at their Biltmore Place home... and was about to return to New York...

Joyce... who owns the Carita beauty salons in New York and Paris... and makes those fabulous Carita wigs... had as her holiday guest one of New York's top public relation agents Ruth Hammer... who was also at the luncheon...

Others in the gay luncheon party were... Joan Bering (just back from a successful art exhibit in Chicago), Edna Rothbart, Dottie Buckingham (she and Earl were off to Apple Valley for New Years... along with the Joe Dyers... and Jimmy Rogers and Milt Hicks)... Jan King (just back from the Bob Hope Caribbean junket), Kay Obergel and Jeri Wormser...

Manager Bob Taliaferro had planned the luncheon for us... and it was unbelievable... starting off with a crab leg cocktail... that led up to chicken under glass... followed by pineapple sherbet in the shell... and topped off by a cafe pousee... a fascinating rainbow-hued liqueur. If you want to stay friends with the bartenders... just don't ask for cafe pousee... Bob made these himself... with the aid of a strange little glass jigger that sent each new color through the tube to float out a new layer at the bottom of the glass... winding up with a yellow, red, green, yellow and blue mixture... And after that... everyone said "Happy New Year" and scattered...

There was an early New Years Eve party at the Ranch Club that night... when Joyce and Noel Clarke... entertained their weekend houseguests... and asked a few friends to drop by for a cocktail buffet... in the warm plush atmosphere of the Naughty Nineties Room... with its honky-tonk piano playing and eye-catching waitresses in brief period costumes...

Among those in the friendly group were... Billie and Bob Kenaston (Billie fully recovered but still bearing scars from the near fatal dog fight involving her feisty miniature poodle and a large boxer... with Billie right in the middle of it... trying to separate them)... Venice and Larry Finley... Sy Bartlett and his son David... Ginny Simms and her tall son David... Renee and Paul Coates and their attractive young daughter Jaren... who was at her first grown-up party... Nellis and Al Hunt and Michael Chinggo... who with his wife Madge is at the Doyle Cotton home... Moon Mullins (everyone was talking about how he has already sold the Hunts' house in Beverly... which he bought not too long ago... and has built a fabulous new home in the Trousdale Estates... where he entertained recently)... Louise and Belmont Sanchez... Ceil and Jack Sullivan... the Gavin Herberts, Kay and Dolph Obergel, Kay and Stan Gliess, Winsome Courtney, Gene Gobel and more...

Smartest event of the post-New Years season... was the elborate sit-down dinner at El Mirador Sunday night... when Ray Ryan honored columnist Louella Parsons for her efforts in glamorizing Palm Springs...

Dressed in holiday red... Louella came in with her favorite escort Jimmy McHugh... and such big names as Bob Hope and Gregory Peck (with their wives) there to pay her honor...

After cocktails in the Kiva Room... where Pepe Callahan and Julie Corona entertained... the party moved into the Silver Palm Room... where a big U-shaped table filled the north end of the room...

Guests danced to the Eddy Howard music... between courses... Everyone's eyes popped when the entree was wheeled in by Chef Edmund... It was a flaming tray... laden with sand grouse (flown here from Africa for the dinner)... in julienne potato nests... with heads modeled of a spicy dressing... The dinner concluded with baked alaskas... P.S. the sand grouse taste something like quail... but add the cost of flying them over from Kenya Club... and they aren't likely to become too popular here.

In the interesting guest list were... the Tom Mays (who are about to build a house at Lido Isle), the Sam Briskins, the Basil O'Connors (he's head of the Polio Foundation... and they are staying at El Mirador)... Dorothy and Harry Joe Brown, Billie and Bob Kenaston Sir Frank Packer of Sydney, Australia... Bob Goldstein, Mrs. Louis B. Mayer, Jeri Cotton, the Michael Chinggos, Norman K. Winston... Richard Whitings, Mike Nidori, Joan and Frank Bering, Edna Rothbart... Margaret Ettinger, Liz and Max Goodland and more...

Recounting early day history... when Miss Parsons came to Palm Springs about 36 years ago... and made it a favorite haunt of Hollywood stars... Ray Ryan presented here with a silver fluted bowl... in token of recognition of the way she has publicized Palm Springs all these many years...

Dorothy and Harry Joe Brown arrived at the Parsons' party... from attending a small cocktail gathering at the Lew Wassermans' home on Hermosa Place... The Danny Kayes were there, the Henry Hathaways, Mr. and Mrs. William Goetz... Benny Thau, the former Joan Cohn and Laurence Harvey...

Earle Strebe (on 30 day leave of absence from city council) who flew to London with Charlie Farrell on New Years Day... will visit Rome to meet his daughter Dorothy's fiancé... a Florentine nobleman... Signor Danilo Zini... The young couple met when Dorothy was studying abroad...

While abroad Councilman Strebe will negotiate (for a group of Palm Springs investors) the purchase of a resort hotel on the island of Majorca... off the coast of Spain...

The two Villagers will return via New York... and Charlie (and possibly Earle) will go to Jamaica... where Charlie has interests... before coming home...

Johnny (one of the greatest of the Tarzans) Weissmuller and his wife Aileen... who have been holidaying here at El Mirador... started Racquet Clubbers by giving forth with the Tarzan yell... when someone accused him of using a sound track... Those who heard it... claim it almost lifted the Racquet Club roof...

The Peter Lawfords are new members at Indian Wells Country Club... and it is believed in Palm Desert... that the couple will spend increasing periods of time in the desert area...

NEW YEARS was celebrated early at this luncheon at Howard Manor, which honored Mrs. Robert Markson, center, of New York, Boston and Palm Springs, and her houseguests New York public relations agent Ruth Hammer, on left. With them, on right, is Mrs. Frank Bering, recently returned from Chicago where she had an exhibit of her paintings at the Sherman Art Gallery. (Desert Sun Photo)

At L'Horizon for New Years

Pacific Palisadians Walter and Peggy Leftwich celebrated their 22nd wedding anniversary when they stayed at L'Horizon over the New Year. With the Leftwiches were Alice and Norm Simmons, Lolly and John Teeler, and Joanie and Peter Graves all of the Palisades. Incidentally, Pete and Joanie just returned from a year's sojourn in Australia where he was filming a TV series, "Whiplash." The group welcomed in the New Year at El Mirador.

Ham Stars

Ham stars on the holiday menu, and a simple unsulphured molasses glaze gives it an appetizing shine. Just mix equal parts of unsulphured molasses and prepared mustard. About 4 tablespoons of this combination glazes a 6-pound ham. Spoon or brush the glaze on a clove-studded ham during the last 45 minutes of the ham's baking time.

For an extra shiny glaze, repeat the brush-on process two or three times during the last 15 minutes of baking time. Then see how the gleaming ham adds sparkle to the festive dinner.

Hostesses New Years Open House

A draped basket figure, topped by an ice bag and holding a cluster of silver, gold and blue balloons from Thunderbird's New Years Eve party the night before, guided guests to Winsome Courtney's Hangover House party at her Grenfall Road apartment on New Year's Day.

Similar figures marked the path that led along the pool, where a flowery boat floated. Indoors and out, the apartment had been cleverly decorated by Vivian Varon, with hung-over Santas and early day movie star figures and a green ball with winking red lights dangling mistletoe in the doorway.

Guests trailed in and out all afternoon and into the evening hours, and included Dr. and Mrs. Rolland Brown, the Maury Horners, Al Hunts, Dorothy and Harry, Joe Brown, the Phil Regans, Joe Hales, Mrs. Don Cameron, Sally O'Neil Battles, Connie Barleau, Marchesa Lily Gerini, Mary Dayton, Jimmy Morton, Alex McDonald, Jacquie Cole, Mrs. Charles Becker, Bill Cods, George Shaw, the Bob Kenastons. Clean Idea

To protect your car floor, cover it with a one-piece rubber car rug contoured to fit smoothly over the center hump.

To keep this clean, vacuum or shake it, then scrub with hot soap or detergent suds. A stiff brush will coax out dirt which settles in the non-skid grooves.

If you have a hard time trying to zip those long zippers in the back of a dress, place a string through the hole of the zipper tab, put the string over the shoulder and pull the zipper shut.

Mel Torme Is Surprise at Brunch

The morning after New Years Eve, found Ranch Club filled to overflowing for the weekly Sunday Brunch, with guests getting an added bonus when singer Mel Torme, who has been staying at the Ranch, made a surprise appearance.

Lovely Clessa Williams, in a gold lame jump suit added to the fun by joining the "Ink Spots" routine as one of the non-singers. She also sang "Old MacDonald Had a Farm," which she has made her own this season. Jimmy Dale, sang as he emceed, handsome young Bill Hamilton made his first appearance on a Brunch program, and the Bobby Correll Trio played again.

The Sterling Pailing party filled one of the booths, and included the Harry Pattins and Sam Gilmoers, Ruthe and Lewis Williams, Lee de Stefano and Roy Randolph (a foursome which took off for San Luis right after the brunch) were at a big table with Peter Graves the young Australian actor, Delores Parker and Pete Petrie.

Swiss Eggplant

Swiss eggplant makes a substantial vegetable course. Slice 1 medium eggplant 1/4-inch thick. Soak 20 minutes in salted water. Scald in boiling water. Dry. Saute slices in butter. Drain. Slice 3 onions and saute. Make alternate layers in a baking dish of eggplant, onion and pound of Swiss cheese, thinly sliced, ending with cheese slices. Sprinkle with 1/2 teaspoon of crumbled oregano. Bake in 350-degree oven until cheese begins to melt and brown. Serves 4 to 6.

Driver Continues On After Crash, Cited by CHP

INDIO — Donald Oakes, 38, of Hesperia, didn't remember a crash at approximately 9:50 p.m., Sunday, but he may remember the results, the California Highway Patrol reported today.

Oakes reportedly struck a car driven by Cleave Ivy, 34, of Paramount, on Highway 60-70 one mile west of Cactus City. Oakes, who was cited for drunk driving, apparently wasn't aware of the collision, and drove nearly 15 miles to near Chircho Summit before he was apprehended at 10:15 p.m., officers said.

"He was too intoxicated to know there had been a collision," a CHP spokesman reported.

Oakes is in custody in Riverside county jail, Indio, pending court hearing. Injuries were minor to both drivers.

Mayfair Reports Theft of Cash From Market

Paul Watkins, manager of the liquor department at Mayfair Market — north, reported to police at 9:30 p.m., Sunday, the theft of $50 in cash, taken off the counter at the market.

Watkins said that he had waited on two men just before the cash, already sacked in a brown canvas bag, was found to be missing from the counter.

He was able to give police a description of the two men and the car they may have been driving, but none of the descriptions were complete.

CRISIS IN BERLIN LOOMING FOR 1961

By JOSEPH FLEMING
BERLIN UPI — When the chestnuts bloom again the Western Allies will be out of West Berlin — that's the prediction of East German Communists for 1961.

But they're not very reliable forecasters. They made the same prediction at the end of 1959. And it's doubtful whether they even believe the prediction themselves.

EASTERN PREDICTIONS aside, everyone from Mayor Willy Brandt on down believes the East-West dispute over the city probably will come to a head in 1961.

It's anyone's guess just what the Communists will do, but it's a good bet that the city faces interference of some sort with its vulnerable transport links to the West.

Just how far the Communists will go is a secret probably known only to their leaders. Most Western officials rule out the possibility of a full-scale blockade.

THE DEGREE OF trouble probably depends on just how badly Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev wants a summit meeting and what happens at the meeting.

But no matter what happens in the future, the city won't be free and the Allied troops still were in the city despite Khrushchev's demand they get out.

Khrushchev made the demand in 1959, in notes proposing that West Berlin be made a so-called free, demilitarized city.

KHRUSHCHEV CAME no closer to that goal in 1960 than he did in 1959, despite a few Communist harassing actions against Berlin traffic.

And city officials think Khrushchev will find president-elect John F. Kennedy an even tougher er man to deal with on Berlin than President Eisenhower was.

They were heartened by a Kennedy pledge to fight for West Berlin just as he would fight for the freedom of New York or Paris.

THE EAST GERMANS showed the power they have over the city's routes from the West last September by banning ground travel by West Germans coming to the city for a refugee rally.

The also violated other Four-Power agreements by barring West Germans from entering East Berlin without special passes.

The Soviets in reply to Allied protests said "sovereign" East Germany could do as it pleased. But the Soviet Union did not echo the frequent East German statements that all Four-Power agreements on the city were dead.

THEY DID SAY, however, that the Western Allies will lose all their rights in the city once a German peace treaty is signed.

The Soviets have warned they will sign a separate peace treaty with East Germany if the German problem is not solved, at a summit meeting held early in 1961. They might do it — 1961 holds the answer.

Desert Plumbers Meeting Tonight

Deputies Learn Midwife Tricks From Doctors

RIVERSIDE — "Where do you prefer to have your baby born — at home, in the hospital, or in a car en route to the hospital?"

Herb Brayer, executive secretary of the Riverside County Medical Association and Sheriff Joe Rice today asked this question of housewives of Riverside County.

"MY GUESS IS THAT you would rather be in the hospital, but in any event the Sheriff's Department of Riverside County has taken the initiative, with the aid of the Riverside County Medical Association, to provide an in-service training program on emergency child birth.

"The department has designed a training program known as the 'Course of Action' which all members of the department must attend once a month. The course lasts for four hours and touches on many varied subjects. This particular month the Riverside County Medical Association has made available to the department and other law enforcement agencies in the county films, work sheets, slides and other visual aids, along with expert instruction in emergency child birth," he said.

THE HOPE OF each officer is that he will never be called upon to make use of this knowledge but in the event an emergency does arise the citizens of this county or people passing through the county may take some comfort in the fact that each officer has received this training. This is in addition to and supplements normal first aid training given by the Red Cross to every member of the department.

"The hope is not to become doctors, but, rather, to render the best possible service to our employers," Sheriff Rice said.

Illegal Parking Protest Brings Attack, Injuries

An argument over an illegally parked car, next to the Palm Springs Desert Museum, ended with the treatment of Dr. C. E. Smith, director, and his son by a doctor for lacerations, bruises and skinned knuckles.

Police received a report last night of a fight in the driveway at the museum.

Arriving at the scene, the fight was over, but wounds had yet to be treated.

Dr. Smith, Museum curator, suffered a lacerated ear, a black eye, bruised knuckles, and a skinned elbow, and his son, Kenneth, suffered the loss of a handful of hair and a bruised jaw. Smith's wife, Lyle, and daughter, Vicki, who joined the menfolk in the fight, reported no injuries.

The fight started over the parking of a car blocking the driveway, keeping the Smith car barred from exit. The people in the car, two men and two women, unidentified, fled the scene before police arrived, but police are checking the license number of the car which was taken by the women.

Jublou Delivers Final Appeal by Citizens Committee

DESERT HOT SPRINGS — Victor R. Jubilou, chairman of the Committee for Education on Incorporation of Desert Hot Springs, announced Friday in an open letter to residents here that the committee "has issued its final report to the people."

Jublou, who emphasized that he personally will continue to obtain answers to individual queries, said figures issued by his committee "are actual facts that can and will be proven to anyone who doubts them."

JUBLOU'S COMMITTEE had maintained a position of neutrality during its study period. Jubilou personally had questioned county administrative officer Robert Andersen's estimates of population here as too high during a public meeting in which Andersen endorsed incorporation for this community.

Jublou's personal letter to the community attacked presentation of estimated revenue figures on the grounds "no human being can tell how much money each of us will spend on taxable merchandise, or where we will make the purchase." He later warned residents "don't be fooled by such statements as those outlined above."

STATING THAT HIS personal interest "is to see that all the cards are face up and dealt properly," Jubilou concluded that persons may examine records of tax rates, assessed valuations, dates of incorporations of cities in Riverside County and services required at his home.

"If I have it (requested information) I will make it available for you, if not I will try to get it for you from public records, properly documented, at no cost to you," Jubilou concluded.

He urged residents to "all vote on a basis of true facts on Jan. 10."

Out-of-state visitors to Arkansas in 1959, stayed an average of two days and spent an average of $6.24 per day.
